

Mark W. Sickles is founding principal of Mark W. Sickles, LLC, and a Fellow at Governance & Accountability Institute. He authored Shareholder Value Assurance, The Mark W. Sickles Handbook for Well-Intended Boards & Directors, Strategic Governance, and is published by Directors Monthly, Directors & Boards, and Investor Relations Update.

Mark created billions of dollars of shareholder value for several firms as an executive and consultant, and is currently creating a superior governance regime. He speaks on governance, strategy, and sustainability, presenting globally to board directors, CEOs, General Counsels, CFOs, investor relations officers, CIOs, human resource executives, and security analysts.

Mark has served as adjunct professor and faculty member at The Singapore Institute of Management, American Management Association, and Rutgers University. He currently serves on the boards of The Rothman Institute of Entrepreneurship and Trestle Group, a Swiss-based outsourcing strategy firm, and is a former board member of Abington Healthcare Corporation.

With extensive experience as a Fortune 500 corporate officer, Mark is the founding President, CEO and board director of the New Jersey Chapter of the National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD), dedicated to developing directors and officers into strategic assets and sources of competitive advantage.
